1,410 disabled children and young people gained increased independence through the provision of essential mobility equipment – an increase of over 40% on 2010. Another 1,350 disabled children and young people gained life skills at Whizz-Kidz training, work placements and local clubs across the UK – 30% more than in the previous year.

And despite continuing difficulties in the wider economy, Whizz-Kidz’s income for the year was at £5.9m. This is an 11% increase on 2010.

Making paediatric mobility a priority
It’s shocking that an estimated 70,000 disabled children and young people still struggle to get the right mobility equipment for their needs. This is why we continue to campaign to ensure that greater priority is given to paediatric mobility.

We launched and delivered a report in the spring. ‘My Wheelchair is My Shoes’ was produced by our All Party Parliamentary Group for Paediatric Mobility Reform and presented to No 10. It set out the need to improve provision of mobility equipment, and included views from a wide group of experts who gave evidence to the APPG at parliamentary hearings in 2010.

Thanks to pro bono support from Frontier Economics we launched a second report demonstrating our wider ‘social return on investment’. The evidence showed that every £1 spent on the right mobility equipment for disabled children delivered benefits of between £10 and £65. Benefits that include markedly better educational, health and employment outcomes achieved by young people with the right equipment as they grow up.

Partnering with the NHS
Throughout the year Whizz-Kidz partnered with NHS in Tower Hamlets, Havering, Barking & Dagenham, Brentwood, Southend, Hull and Plymouth, delivering improvements to wheelchair provision for children and young people in these areas.

We were delighted to be recognised in the NHS Operating Framework as beacons of good practice for our work in Tower Hamlets and Southend.
Quality equipment at the right cost
In 2011 our procurement strategy delivered further savings as we continued to review our supply chain and negotiated better equipment at improved prices – helping us to transform lives by giving children the best equipment for their needs. At the same time we launched our first ever Whizz-Kidz branded buggy and a set of Whizz-Kidz wheel guards, to be given to children along with their wheelchairs.

This year we achieved 98% satisfaction rates for the equipment we provide. We have also developed an online rate and review service so that children and families can give and share their views on the equipment. We are using this feedback to improve our services and help wheelchair manufacturers innovate and develop their products in response to young people’s views.

Child in a chair in a day
In 2011 Whizz-Kidz continued to deliver its ‘child in a chair in a day’ programme. While some of the children we help have very complex needs that require highly configured or bespoke equipment, many more are now able to take home the right equipment for their needs on the day of their assessment. Because of our innovative ways of working, developed thanks to expertise and pro bono support from a team of healthcare specialists at Accenture, 68% of routine cases of children seen in our NHS partnerships were able to do just that – leave with their equipment on the day. Towards the end of the year the success of this programme was highlighted in the NHS Chief Executive’s ‘Innovation, Health and Wealth’ report along with a commitment by the NHS to launch its own ‘child in a chair in a day’ programme nationally.

Life journey
In communities across the country we ran wheelchair skills training events with 787 disabled children and young people taking part – up from 720 in 2010. At these valuable courses, participants learn how to get the most from their wheelchair and gain independence. We also delivered a programme of life skills training events across the country – helping 640 young wheelchair users gain increased confidence, up from 110 in 2010. A further 106 young disabled people had their first experience of the world of work through our highly successful work placement programme with a range of employers across the UK.

Thanks to continued funding from the Big Lottery Fund and BBC Children in Need we have been able to set up and deliver over 40 local clubs for young wheelchair users across the UK. At these clubs, members of our young Ambassador network can meet up, make friends and gain skills. And our Kidz Unlimited website for young people means many more can now connect and access our life skills programme online.

Whizz-Kidz can celebrate many achievements over this past year, but thousands of disabled children continue to miss out on fun and active childhoods because they don’t have the right equipment for their needs. It remains the charity’s focus to address this in 2012 and beyond.

None of the achievements you will read about in this review would have been possible without our supporters. On behalf of the Trustees I want to thank all our supporters, the Whizz-Kidz team, and the many children and young people who act as Ambassadors for the charity. Your help really does make a difference.

David Reid
Chair, Whizz-Kidz’s Board of Trustees
The good news is that the last year has been our most successful ever – we’ve been able to supply 1,410 youngsters with the equipment they so badly need. That’s a rise of 40% on 2010.

As well as giving out more mobility equipment, we’re also doing it quicker than ever before. Whizz-Kidz’s ‘Child in a Chair in a Day’ programme was started with help from Tesco and Accenture and has dramatically accelerated the supply of wheelchairs. In fact, 68% of the young people seen in our NHS partnerships were able to leave with their mobility equipment on the same day. We’re now aiming to supply the majority of our equipment this way, so young people can start their journey towards independence right away.

Fulfilling potential

We know that the right mobility equipment can transform the life of a disabled child or young person, giving them the chance to be independent, have fun and fulfil their potential. We also know that there are around 70,000 youngsters in the UK right now who are missing out.

One mum’s story

Arran is eight years old and lives in Carluke with his mum, dad, twin brother and younger sister. He has a condition called hydrocephalus, which for him means he is unable to sit or walk unaided. Arran is unable to communicate fully, but his mum Lorna says:

“Arran was becoming increasingly frustrated with his situation. He would become very agitated when he knew his siblings were going outside to ride their bikes and he could not join in. We wanted to give him the opportunity to enjoy his childhood just like his brother and sisters, so we applied to Whizz-Kidz for help.

Whizz-Kidz was able to provide Arran with a specialised trike that offers him stability and postural support. It has special footholds and back supports that help to keep him in the right position to cycle.

He absolutely loves the trike. It is usually kept at his school and he rides it almost every day (weather permitting!). It can also be attached to the back of our bikes – perfect for going on trips and offering him much more than exercise or fun. It opens up new avenues for him to explore his potential.”

Arran’s mum, Lorna

A wheelchair that fits

“Whizz-Kidz changed things for me. Their mobility therapists listened to what I like to do and measured me up to get the right fit. With my powered wheelchair I can go out and do all the things I’ve wanted to do and put all my energy into moving my life forward in the direction I want.”

Nathan, age 17

1,410 youngsters supplied with equipment, a rise of 40% on 2010.
Believing that we can always achieve more together than apart, Whizz-Kidz has been working closely with the NHS. We’ve seen how difficult families can find it to get hold of the right wheelchairs – especially powered ones – on the NHS, so we’re now doing what we can to make it easier.

In 2011, we worked with the NHS in Tower Hamlets, Southend, Plymouth, Hull, Havering, Barking & Dagenham and Brentwood. And we have lots more planned in the years ahead so we can make a massive difference to local waiting lists, and get more wheelchairs to more kids.

Adding value
Providing mobility equipment to a disabled child doesn’t just benefit that individual – the positive effects ripple out in all kinds of ways and touch a huge number of lives. Leading economic consultancy Frontier Economics published a report in April 2011 which looked into the lasting effects of Whizz-Kidz’s support for parents, carers, schools and the NHS.

It found that the average household is better off by between £10 and £65 with each £1 spent by Whizz-Kidz on the right wheelchair. We call this Whizz-Kidz’s return on investment.

It’s about making a lasting difference
With the right wheelchair to fit a child’s young life, the following things can happen:

- A young person has greater independence to go on to pursue further education and learn skills that will help them find employment later on
- Parents and family members that take on care for the young person can be freed up to start part or full-time work, increasing the family’s income
- The young person’s school will save on classroom adaptations or support from a teaching assistant, because of the child’s greater level of independence
- The need for hospital treatment for health problems caused by the wrong wheelchair and support seating is alleviated; reducing healthcare costs
- There are clear savings to state services and support, as families draw on fewer welfare benefits

One partnership of many “Whizz-Kidz has transformed the wheelchair service at Tower Hamlets through a collaborative user-driven approach to delivering the right equipment at the right time.

By working in partnership with the NHS, as the Tower Hamlets model has demonstrated, Whizz-Kidz is able to generate significant savings through a leaner and child-focused approach to assessment. The result of which is enhanced clinical outcomes and a higher customer satisfaction rate.”

Alwen Williams, CEO, NHS East London & The City
One example is the Kidz Board. Made up of 12 young people who are elected by their peers, the Kidz Board represents the views and voices of the more than 1,000 kids and young adults that Whizz-Kidz supports around the UK.

Whizz-Kidz doesn’t just provide mobility equipment; it also gives young people the chance to get involved in our work and shape the way we do things.

Giving the Kids a voice

“I’m Rebecca, and I co-chaired The Kidz Board in 2011. Each of us on the Board have been on our own journey at Whizz-Kidz. For me, I wasn’t very confident at school but threw myself into my studies. After getting my first Whizz-Kidz wheelchair that fitted my life and what I liked to do, I went to my first Ambassador Club and it changed everything!

My confidence grew, I met other disabled kids, and I quickly wanted to give something back to help others get independent lives. The Kidz Board is a place where we get a say – and in 2011 we got up to some amazing things.

It’s not all high-level stuff, we had a lot of fun too – but for me, finding my voice and working across the country to make things better for other young disabled people has totally changed my life. Next year, I’m moving on to finish my studies, but I’m sure the next Kidz Board Chair can do even more.”

Rebecca, age 18

1,000 Whizz-Kidz has more than 1,000 young Ambassadors around the UK.
Our nationwide Kidz Unlimited programme is designed to help young people interact with each other, share their experiences, learn new skills and have some fun along the way.

It does this in a variety of ways:

- Ambassador clubs – these local clubs are an opportunity for youngsters to meet, socialise, attend talks and take part in life skills sessions. Around 640 young people regularly attend our 42 clubs up and down the UK, meeting every eight weeks.

- Wheelchair Skills Training programmes – we have 76 UK-wide programmes giving youngsters the skills they need to get the best out of their mobility equipment – in 2011, 787 kids took part.

- Camp Whizz-Kidz – new for 2011, these are away-from-home residential camps with full support from personal assistants, carers and trained staff. Four camps have hosted a total of 45 kids so far, with plans for many more. Current sponsors are Kent/Medway, Surrey, Haringey, Croydon and Southend-on-Sea Local Authorities.

- The new Kidz Unlimited website – our site hosts e-learning modules, interactive courses, training modules, a forum and more.

Preparing young people for the future is a key part of what we do here at Whizz-Kidz, so the growing popularity of our Work Placement Scheme is hugely encouraging. In 2011, 106 disabled youngsters took part – up from 19 in 2010.

My work placement

“I’m Steve. I’m 17 years old and from Derbyshire. For me, Whizz-Kidz gave me something no one else was willing to at the time; a taste of the world of work.

I spent two weeks with the graphic design team at Molson Coors UK in Burton, and was tasked with learning to design brand and marketing for a fictional soft drink.

I learned to use various graphics programmes, and I increased my confidence and my ability to work with others. I had a great week and would now like to pursue graphic design as a career. The work placement was a magnificent opportunity. I can’t recommend Whizz-Kidz Work Placement Scheme enough.”

Steve, Ambassador, age 17
Flying the flag for Whizz-Kidz

“I’m Lanre and I’m 13. I went to my first Camp in February 2011. I hadn’t heard of Whizz-Kidz before, but now I’m signed up as an Ambassador! Camp is an amazing chance to learn new things, get more confident and it is totally awesome! Since going, I find it easier to make new friends and have been putting my new Leadership Skills into practice at school and with my basketball team.”

Lanre, age 13

Fun, Friendship and Learning

“I’m Hannah and I’m 15. For me, Whizz-Kidz Ambassador Clubs have made a big impact in my life. The Clubs are places where young people can make new friends, but also learn loads of new skills that help us in all areas of our lives. I’ve been going to my local Club in Dudley in the West Midlands for over a year.

Before attending the Clubs I had low confidence and was very quiet and shy. I didn’t know anyone else with a similar disability to my own and in order to go out with my friends my mum would have to come with me. This really annoyed me and affected my ability to have fun and be independent.

After attending the Ambassador Clubs I have made lots of new friends. My confidence has grown a lot and I have become a lot louder! I am proud of who I am and enjoy supporting younger Ambassadors at the Club helping to build their confidence too.”

Hannah, age 15

640 young people regularly attend our 42 clubs up and down the UK.
Our volunteering opportunities offer people of all ages and abilities the chance to contribute to our work and build new skills and experiences. In 2011, 250 people did some form of volunteering for us.

volunteers offered their free time in 2011 to help hundreds of disabled people have fun and become more independent.

Being the difference: volunteering with Whizz-Kidz

“I'm Emma. I'm 22, live in Crawley and I volunteer with Whizz-Kidz. I started out in 2010 during Volunteer Week, but got hooked!

Over the last two years I have been involved in many different areas of the charity's work, but my highlight has to be Camp Whizz-Kidz. This is because it lasts for three days, giving you the opportunity to get to know the young people better whilst seeing first-hand how the Camp gives them the confidence to try things for the first time.

Volunteering with Whizz-Kidz has given me a real drive to pursue a career working with young disabled people and the skills I have learned along the way will help achieve this. 250 volunteers like me offered our free time in 2011, to help hundreds of disabled people have fun and become more independent.”

Emma, Volunteer, age 22
We’re always working hard behind the scenes to raise awareness of the challenges facing disabled young people and doing what we can to keep the subject high on the political agenda.

On the campaign trail

“I’m Arthur, 22, and a seasoned campaigner both for Whizz-Kidz, and in my spare time on the Scottish Youth Parliament.

Whilst England was experiencing the first full year of a coalition government, Whizz-Kidz in England, Wales, Scotland and Northern Ireland met with many new MPs at local Ambassador Clubs and Wheelchair Skills Training, and signed up new MPs, MSPs, Welsh Assembly members, and members of the Legislative Assembly Champions.

In June 2011, The All Party Parliamentary Group (APPG) on Paediatric Wheelchair Reform published ‘My Wheelchair is My Shoes: Making the Case for Wheelchair Reform’. Whizz-Kidz sponsored the report which included strong evidence from therapists, young people like myself and NHS professionals about the importance of accessing the right wheelchair at an early stage. Whizz-Kidz Ambassadors took the report to Downing Street with Whizz-Kidz champion, ex GB Paralympian Fran Williamson.

In October, MP for Leeds North West and chair of the APPG, Greg Mulholland, met with Prime Minister David Cameron with Kidz Board members Katy Mobbs, George Fielding and Chief Executive Ruth Owen to discuss the issues young people face trying to access the right mobility equipment.

And in November, Whizz-Kidz picked up first prize for ‘Party Conference Innovation’ at the Public Affairs News Awards for our use of mobile and web ‘podcasting’ tool Audioboo at the Labour and Conservative Party Conferences.

2011 was such an exciting and action-packed year of successes and celebrations – with the charity making a big impact on both a national and local scale. I’ve never been more proud to be a Whizz-Kidz campaigner.”

Arthur, age 22
Every wheelchair we supply, training course we run and residential camp we staff is thanks to the people and organisations who support us. This year, like every year, we are hugely grateful for the many different ways people have chosen to get behind our work and give their time, money or encouragement.

Here’s a quick snapshot of this year’s fundraising efforts:

- Corporate partnerships – a diverse range of businesses have chosen to support Whizz-Kidz this year, raising £635,000 in total through a variety of fundraising events and initiatives.

- Statutory and Trusts – donations from our supporters – ranging from foundations and lottery funds to private individuals – brought in £1.9m over the past 12 months.

- Events – from sponsored runs to night-walks, we hold lots of events throughout the year – this year £1.3m was raised, with £1.07m coming from the London Marathon alone.

An inspiring partnership

“When Freshfields began working with Whizz-Kidz, we knew we’d picked a very innovative, focused and passionate group of people to work with. The tangibility of the support, and the young people they empower, inspired us to get involved in a variety of ways.

For me, meeting the children and young people whose lives – and life chances - have so dramatically improved has impacted on my understanding of what the right support can provide. Freshfields has been able to contribute in our own way by offering some very bright youngsters work placements, as well as provide financial support to aid the charity’s marketing and events programme. We continue to work with Whizz-Kidz, its Kidz Board and Ambassadors. They inspire us, and in return we are dedicated to supporting a myriad of opportunities for its young disabled people to develop new skills and have fun.”

Simon Hall, Partner, Freshfields Bruckhaus Deringer

More of our corporate supporters in 2011

It wasn’t just Freshfields that caught the Whizz-Kidz bug – in total our corporate partners raised over £635,000 throughout the year.

Molson Coors UK broke their two-year target of £180k in the first year of our partnership (raising £186,718) and were able to use their expertise to offer young people work placements, and provide pro bono support on national fundraising campaigns. In addition Molson Coors UK staff really got behind many volunteering opportunities at Whizz-Kidz Clubs and training schemes.

We also enjoyed support from InterContinental Hotels Group, who raised £126,000 and also pledged to continue offering 25 work placements throughout 2012.

QMH raised over £35,000, which included their UK Divisional Team scaling the heights of Ben Nevis to raise over £5,000.

Travis Perkins Group Supply Chain raised over £68,000 in their second year of support, including an inventive nationwide search for in-house ‘talent’ which ended in a fundraising contest of Travis Perkins singers and performers.

Other organisations providing hugely valuable support this year included Cantillon, Axa Investment Managers, Accenture, GVA and Legal and General.

Statutory and Trusts fundraising

2011 was a tremendously successful year for the trusts, lottery and statutory team here at Whizz-Kidz.

Our life-changing work with disabled children and young people resonated more strongly than ever and we ended the year on an amazing £1.9 million.

Statutory and Trusts fundraising

2011 was a tremendously successful year for the trusts, lottery and statutory team here at Whizz-Kidz.

Our life-changing work with disabled children and young people resonated more strongly than ever and we ended the year on an amazing £1.9 million.

Big donations

We are especially grateful to The ACT Foundation. Through an incredible donation of £104,000, ACT enabled Whizz-Kidz to provide the vital mobility equipment at the right time for 70 disabled children and young people. Continued support from trusts and foundations are vital to sustain our core work – and hopefully inspire others.

Other outstanding donations came from BBC Children in Need (£120,000) and the Big Lottery Fund (£744,000). Both provided not only much-needed funding for our core Wheelchair Skills Training programme, but also through their unique funding streams – BBC Children in Need, Fun and Friendship and the Big Lottery Fund, and the Young People’s Fund 2 – allowed Whizz-Kidz to deliver personal and social development and life skills to thousands of young wheelchair users in every part of the UK.

Continuing support

A special mention too must go to American trusts who continued their support in 2011. This includes The Dr. Scholl Foundation who have donated £150,000 since 2004, the May and Stanley Smith Charitable Trust who have given £68,000 since 2009, and The Coca-Cola Foundation who in 2011 gave £20,000 towards the provision of sports equipment.

Who knows, we may even grow our own future Paralympians.

An outstanding donation from the Big Lottery Fund.

“Working in my area of fundraising is hugely rewarding because it’s about matching the potential funder with really creative and groundbreaking projects – that make things better for all disabled youngsters. I look forward to sharing more with you next year.”

Andy, Statutory and Trusts Fundraising Manager

“We were delighted that The Coca-Cola Foundation could support Whizz-Kidz to provide sports wheelchairs to a number of young people, especially fitting as we looked forward to the legacy of our support of the London 2012 Olympic and Paralympic Games. Helping young people be more active, to enjoy sports and make friends doing so, is a fantastic part of Whizz-Kidz’s work and one which resonates with us especially.”

Liz Lowe, Corporate Responsibility & Sustainability Manager, Coca-Cola GB
From public bodies to private individuals
Both the Department for Education and Department of Health sponsored innovative projects that will help us reach more families with specialist knowledge, and improve policies and practices through our work with the NHS.

The generosity of our individual donors, who supported our work through web or text donations or by donating regularly (for example, via a monthly direct debit) made an invaluable difference to the lives of disabled children and young people throughout the UK.

Events
In 2011, we also launched our new signature event: the Whizz-Kidz Neon Nightwalk. In its first year more than 100 people raised £40,000 by walking through the night in central London – all dressed in neon! There were two walking options; 10 and 20 miles. Eight fantastic young Ambassadors led the charge for the first mile, and our celebrity patrons Sam & Mark kicked things off.

Marathon fundraising efforts
“I have run the London Marathon for Whizz-Kidz a total of six times now – last year pounding the streets with around 500 other fundraisers - and what an experience they give me each time. Every volunteer and helper on the day does an outstanding job. And I return again and again because I know the money I raise will provide at least one child a spanking new set of wheels every year.

Outside of the Marathon, there is the choice of many other challenges too; for example the Royal Parks Half Marathon every October, where a team of 40 raised £31,000 in 2011. And Whizz-Kidz’s Sitting Volleyball tournament played against companies in the City looked loads of fun – and raised over £3,000. It was also the first time Whizz-Kidz joined forces with the family-friendly charity triathlon event Tri for Life – another £27,000 was made there.

If like me you want to give something back and have your own personal challenge, take it from me – Whizz-Kidz’s Events Team are so supportive along every step (or cycle) you take. Each event will make a huge difference to the kids they help and give you memories you’ll have forever.”

George, six times Whizz-Kidz marathon runner
Proud to be part of the community

“Whizz-Kidz in the regions is growing stronger each year, and our local fundraisers make a massive difference to children in their communities.

The Regional Fundraising Team I’m part of expanded to nine regions, including Wales, Northern Ireland and Scotland.

Highlights in 2011 included seven local fundraising events in association with Bauer Media – including a superhero zip slide held at Stormont in Belfast with Downtown Radio. We were also delighted to be the nominated charity for the Grand Primo of the Royal Order of the Antediluvian Buffaloes - they raised over £10,000 during a 2000-mile bike ride. Amazing stuff.

We were proud to once again be selected beneficiary of the annual golf day held by Warburton’s technical solutions team and suppliers in June. This raised a massive £38,000.

We continue to be humbled by the dedication and support of so many people. I love working in the regions for Whizz-Kidz – I meet lots of different people, from families who have had our support and want to give something back, through to local employers choosing us to inspire their staff and help a local child. Every one is a star, and all of us give a huge thank you to all those who helped us make a difference in 2011.”

Sophie, Regional Fundraiser
We’re making some key promises for 2012 – five things we’re setting out to achieve in order to give disabled children and young people a full and active childhood.

Promise 01
No child to miss out
We know that the wheelchair is just the start. We will use all our resources to ensure that we reach all disabled children and young people who need us, and make sure they have access to all of our services as part of our Whizz-Kidz life journey.

Promise 02
Education through expertise
In 2011 Whizz-Kidz was able to offer even more opportunities through our corporate partners and advised on barriers and attitudes to access for disabled young people. Whizz-Kidz will continue this important work in order to create a better tomorrow.

Promise 03
2,000 voices
You don’t have to be one of the 12 members of the Kidz Board to have an impact. We will offer every young person the skills and confidence to speak to their local media, fundraise in the local area and meet their local decision makers. We aim to reach 2012 young people with opportunities and equipment in 2012.

Promise 04
Together not apart
Whizz-Kidz campaigners, our NHS partners and our cross-political champions all work together in the interests of supporting disabled young people’s independence. We’ll only achieve our aims by working in collaboration – as together we’re stronger.

Promise 05
Whizz-Kidz will build on the Paralympic legacy
Creating the next generation of role models who will go out and inspire disabled children and young people to lead full, active lives.

There are many ways you can support Whizz-Kidz and change a disabled child’s life forever:

- volunteer your time
- donate
- sign up for an event or marathon
- raise awareness and fundraise locally, get your company involved

Your support will help us to help more disabled children and young people – and ensure that everyone fulfils their potential.
